

The Survey Study on Wenzao Students' Knowledge and Understanding of Sexual Harassment Pin-Hsiu Ke, B.A.

Wenzao Ursuline University of Languages, 2018

Abstract

The sexual harassment this issue has been discussed for a long time. From the last year 2017, the #Me Too Movement starts to the series of the anti- sexual harassment. And more and more victims stand out to tell their encounter. Within this background for this research, researcher attempt that the understanding and knowledge could make the affection to the sexual harassment. So, it takes Wenzao for a case study to test students' understanding and knowledge of sexual harassment. This research continues with the survey study to answer the key research questions: (1) how to define the sexual harassment (2) how students in Wenzao represent generation perceive and understand sexual harassment (3) what we should do to fight the sexual harassment.

The 121 paper-based survey from the department of International Affairs students. More than half have no idea about #MeToo Movement. As for the knowledge part, there are some of the stereotype questions, most of students got the wrong answers. And for the experience part, potentially, the victim has the possibilities turn to be the perpetrator. It's crucial to make students to have the basic knowledge and understanding of sexual harassment. the definition, impact, the policy and the solution will have more discussion in this research.

Keywords: sexual harassment, gender, #Me Too Movement, relationship, campus life